

Table I.
Structural Profile
of Democratic Central European Parliaments

Region	Country	Chamber Structure	Election Years	Chamber Names	Size
Central
	Czech Republic	Unicameral	1990 & 1992	Chamber of Deputies	200
		Bicameral	1996	Chamber of Deputies Senate	200 81
	Poland	Bicameral	1989, 1991 & 1993	Sejm Senate	460 100
	Slovak Republic	Unicameral	1990, 1992 & 1994	National Council	150
	Hungary	Unicameral	1990 & 1994	National Assembly	386
Balkans
	Albania	Unicameral	1991	People's Assembly	250
			1992 & 1996	People's Assembly	140
	Croatia	Bicameral	1992	House of Representatives	138
			1993	House of Counties	68
			1995	House of Representatives	127
	Bulgaria	Unicameral	1990	Grand National Assembly	400
			1991 & 1994	National Assembly	240
	Romania	Bicameral	1990	Chamber of Deputies Senate	387 119
			1992 & 1996	Chamber of Deputies Senate	341 143
	Slovenia	Unicameral	1996	National Assembly	90
Baltic States
	Estonia	Unicameral	1990	Supreme Council	105
			1992 & 1995	State Assembly	101
	Latvia	Unicameral	1990	Supreme Council	201
			1993	Saeima	100
			1995	Saeima	100
	Lithuania	Unicameral	1990	Supreme Council	141
			1992 & 1996	Seimas	141
Other Former Soviet Union
	The Russian Federation	Bicameral	1995	State Duma	450
	Ukraine	Unicameral	1994 & 1995	Verkhovna Rada	450
	Moldova	Unicameral	1993 & 1994	Parlamentul	104

Sources

Inter-Parliamentary Union, "PARLINE Database," at <http://www.ipu.org>

K. Jasiewicz. 1993. "Elections and Political Change," in White, Batt and Lewis, eds., Developments in East European Politics

J. McGregor. 1994. "The Presidency in East Central Europe," RFE/RL Research Report 3:2 (January)