Course Catalog Description:
Analysis of the American legal system, focusing on the behavior of actors in that system, theoretical foundations of the system, and policy-making role of the courts.

Student Learning Outcomes:
- To give students an introductory understanding of the structure of the American court system
- To help students explore their expectations of the court system and appreciate the way courts influence politics and everyday life
- To show students how judges make decisions, and why this process is different from our long-held myths about judges
- To practice reading and analyzing written judicial opinions

Required Texts:
- Additional Readings on Canvas, as indicated on the schedule of topics. Please print and bring to class (with the exception of the Galanter article).

- F=267 pts & below
Class Participation:
Students are expected to regularly attend class and participate in discussion. This means that students should be prepared each class period to be called upon to answer questions relevant to the reading. Quality is more important than quantity in my evaluation of class participation. Class participation may also occasionally consist of assigned discussion questions for the following class period or a pop quiz, at the instructor’s discretion. Attendance will be included as part of the class participation grade. Participation in class discussion and evidence of reading material prior to class will be taken into account in determining final participation grades.

Reaction Papers:
You will be required to submit a single-spaced, one-page reaction paper of about 350-450 words for five of the readings of your choice as indicated on the schedule of topics. Reaction papers will be due on the date listed on the schedule of topics. Late reaction papers will not be accepted. It is up to the student to ensure that at least five reaction papers are completed by semester’s end. If a student misses a reaction paper due to extenuating circumstances, then he or she will be asked to complete one of the upcoming reaction papers. In other words, you should plan accordingly and not wait until the end of the semester to turn in the last five reaction papers that are due. There are 26 opportunities to submit reaction papers throughout the semester. DO NOT WAIT until the end and submit the last five (you may risk missing one due to extenuating circumstances). Detailed instructions for writing reaction papers will be posted online and/or handed out in class.

Missed exams:
Students are expected to be present to take the exams at their scheduled times. Only in extraordinary circumstances will make-up opportunities exist. Students must notify me PRIOR to the missed exam with a valid excuse and must be prepared to provide credible evidence (such as a written doctor’s note) of the excuse. Excuses for missed exams after the fact will not be allowed, resulting in a failing grade for the missed exam. It is the instructor’s sole discretion to determine whether or not an excuse is acceptable.

Academic Honor Code:
I expect all students in this course to abide by both the letter and spirit of the university’s academic integrity policy. Violations of the university honor code will be prosecuted. The full text of the Academic Integrity Policy can be viewed at: http://sa.unmc.edu/handbook/academic-integrity-policy/. Specifically pertinent to this course are the following rules:
1. “Cheating: Intentionally using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise.”
2. “Plagiarism: Intentionally or knowingly representing the words of another, as one’s own in any academic exercise.”
Do NOT engage in either cheating or plagiarism. The penalties for both offenses range from the need to re-do assignments to expulsion from the University, depending upon the severity of the cheating or plagiarism offense.
If you have any questions regarding what constitutes either cheating or plagiarism, please see me immediately.

Classroom etiquette and use of electronic devices:
Please show respect for your instructor and classmates by being in class on time and by planning to remain in class for the entire class period. Turn off cell phones and other electronic devices during class. Use of laptop computers is limited to taking notes, not surfing the Internet, chatting with others, working on assignments for other classes, or any other similar activities. Students who use laptops to take notes must sit in the front two rows of the classroom.

Please be on time for class. Wandering in and out of class is distracting to everyone else. Excessive tardiness or leaving class early will result in a deduction of the participation grade. Please do not smoke in the classroom (including use of e-cigarettes).

Schedule of Topics: Minor adjustments to the schedule may be made during the semester. Students are expected to keep up with any changes made to the schedule.

*Note: Chapter numbers refer to the chapters in Judicial Process in America. Each day’s reading assignments should be completed prior to class. Reaction papers are due on the date the reading is assigned.
